

Brian St.Ours named WebAward judge

The Web Marketing Association has selected Brian K. St.Ours of eWareness Inc. in Melbourne as a judge for the 10th annual international WebAward competition for Web-site development. The WebAward is a competition that sets industry benchmarks based on the seven criteria of a successful Web site. It recognizes the individual and team achievements of Web professionals who create and maintain outstanding Web sites. "I am very honored to once again be a member of the esteemed panel of WebAward judges," said St.Ours. "For the past seven years I have had the privilege of judging numerous sites based on the Web Marketing Association's well-defined evaluation process. This year's competition should be especially exciting as designers, agencies and companies from around the world vie for recognition in the momentous 10th annual international WebAward competition." St.Ours is the president of eWareness, a Web marketing-communications firm.
